

PADI Open Water Diver Class

Step One: Schedule class & pool pre-certification

$199

We offer classes year round on both weekends and weeknights. Selecting an e-learning class allows you to complete all academic material online including all reviews and quizzes. If you select an in person class you will do your reviews and take your quizzes with one of our instructors. E-learning classes reduce the time needed to complete this portion of the full course while the in person classes offer you more time to ask questions and interact with the instructor. Both versions include all instruction and scuba equipment rental (excluding mask, snorkel, fins & boots).

Private classes are also available, please call us for additional information

Step Two: Purchase your study materials

$278 / $150

e-learning in class

Each student is required to have a personal set of materials for the class. E-learning students receive a digital code for the study materials that are accessible from desktop computers and mobile devices. In class students receive a textbook and video (digital streaming or DVD). All students receive a package that includes a logbook, dive computer simulator digital code, marker buoy and a $100 rebate on their personal equipment.

Step Three: Purchase your personal equipment

$183 - $501

after rebate

Fit and comfort of your gear is one of the most important safety aspects of diving. To ensure that, our students are required to have their own scuba quality mask, snorkel, fins and boots. Students receive a $100 rebate when they purchase from our retail store and allow us to personally fit them. During class if any item doesn't meet your expectation we will happily exchange it for another.

Step Four: Complete your open water dives

To complete your certification you will do 4 open water dives with an instructor. This can be done with one of our instructors at our affiliate dive site near Metropolis, IL or with another operation. The latter option is called a "referral." When choosing the "referral" option, consult the destination operation for scheduling and fees. Our open weekends include admission to the dive site, rental scuba gear (excluding mask, snorkel, fins and boots), certification fees and air fills (travel, meals and overnight accommodations not included).

Upgrades to your Open Water certification dives

Drysuit Diver: Stay warm and dry when you complete your Open Water dives in a driesuit. Each student completes an additional class and pool session, one additional open water dive and will be able to use their rental driesuit on their open water dives. This option is $185 / person and includes all instruction, materials certification and the rental driesuit.

Peak Performance Buoyancy: Float effortlessly, drifting over reefs or exploring the underwater treasures at Mermet Springs. Build on the buoyancy skills you have developed in the Open Water class by completing two additional dives for Peak Performance Buoyancy class after your Open Water dives. This option is $75 / person and includes all instruction, materials and certification.
